to Boston Weekly Museum.—This large and bandsome weekly literary journal comains, this week the whole of Mrs. Ans. S. STEPPENS's talle, which she got FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS for writing, entitled AMARY DERWENT. No paper in the United States ever published before so long a story in one number. This tale, which has long been out of print, will be called for almost as much as though it was new.

The following is a verbatim copy of a letter which the publishers received by a recent steamer from Liverpoot.

"Mesers. Charles, A. V. Putram & Co.: It was only oday that I saw for the first time your paper, the Braton Museum, and I am so taken with it that I must have a copy repularly. There is an excellent selection for the general reader in 14—much more so, in fact, than in any periodical of the sort which I am in the habit of seeding, and those are not few. We have only one journal in Scotland—periods in Britain—akin to it, The Ladder Journal, an Edinburgh "weekly," but I think yours is superior. Send in them a copy regularly, and please drop a note, or could you not state in some part of the paper, how payment is to be made by partice situated as I am. Please let me know somebow the readiest way of transmitting the cash, and it will be sent off to you as soon as the means of transmission are made known to the. Please address to me.
